

Olivia Wilson

Trainee Patent Attorney

Olivia joined J A Kemp in 2023 and is based in the firm's Oxford office.

Prior to joining the firm, Olivia graduated from the University of Cambridge with a first class Masters in Natural Sciences (Chemistry), ranking in the top ten of her cohort. Olivia was awarded both the Katritzky Prize and the Alex Hopkins Memorial Prize for Chemistry for exceptional academic performance.

During her time at Cambridge, Olivia focused her studies on the biological side of chemistry, and in her fourth year, completed an experimental project based in the field of neurodegenerative disease alongside a critical literature review into machine learning methods for therapeutic antibody design.

Olivia is also a fully qualified secondary school science teacher.
